PENDLETON WOOLEN MILLS, MADE IN THE USA

For six generations, one family has owned and operated Pendleton Woolen Mills. Our woolen blankets are woven in two Pacific Northwest mills in Pendleton, Oregon, and Washougal, Washington, two of the last remaining woolen mills in the USA. Here, blankets are loomed from virgin wool yarn that is dyed, carded, spun and woven on-site, then finished with care and hand-folded before leaving the mill. We take pride in our craftsmanship. A Pendleton blanket offers warmth and quality that will last for generations.
